Sacred Heart Package Presented To Board

Ah! The Joys Of School Days

Test Results Raise Goals For Current School Year

Buoyed by a distinct upward trend in achievement test scores, the Andover School Committee Tuesday night endorsed a new goal: that the scores of all achievement subtests top the 70th national percentile by the spring of 1978.

The committee expressed general pleasure over the results of both external tests — the achievements — taken last spring, and the internal tests which were given to a sampling of pupils in the third, sixth and ninth grades.

Two years ago the committee responded to declining scores — a national trend as well — by calling for increased emphasis on the basic subjects and for all scores to be above the 60th percentile in 1976.

Ninety-nine percent of the tests taken in May reached that goal.

In fact, Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott said that 93 percent of the scores were

By Linda S. Corbett

above the 70th percentile, and that led to his suggestion of the new two-year goal.

Westcott reported that Andover scores were "conspicuously above the 50th percentile on the national average."

"The trend is generally upward," he went on, comparing 1976 test scores to those of the previous two years, "and that's a good feeling."

"However," he added, "we do not intend to rest on our laurels."

For the past two years the concentration has been on smoothing out the rough spots in math and language arts programs.

Am emphasis on spelling helped bring the scores up, though spelling is still a problem in some areas.

Reading has also shown great improvement. "Reading achievement test scores that range from a low of 73 to a high of 95 speak for themselves," Westcott said in his report.

The focus of this year's attack is the science curriculum, with social studies earmarked for 1977-78.

School Committeeman Frank Griggs called the program assessment observations in Westcott's voluminous printed report the "most honest" report on Andover's curriculum he has seen in his five years on the committee.

Westcott passed on credit for many of the observations to the administrators and staff throughout the system.

The report concluded that IMS (the Individualized Math System) has been modified for the past several years and is providing a "satisfactory system" in the elementary grades. "It is apparent, it said,

Firm Wants Building; Town Can Have Land

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

When Andover's Development Industrial Commission was assigned the task of resolving the Sacred Heart property matter for the town which would net Andover the land and tax revenue from the building, it seemed an improbable task.

But within a matter of months of the assignment, the commission has come up with "the difficult we do immediately, the impossible takes a little longer," answer for the community.

Tuesday night, Phillip Singleton, of Crowninshield Corp., Peabody, a real estate development firm specializing in the rehabilitation and recycling of existing buildings, explained proposed conversions of the Sacred Heart building to an apartment complex.

Singleton told the commission members and several Shawsheen neighbors at a meeting in Memorial Hall library, that the firm is interested in developing the building into 80 apartments; 80 percent being one bedroom units.

Also, the development firm has no plans or desires to acquire the land, or playfields across Balmoral street, and which the town is most interested in acquiring for conservation and recreation purposes.

While plans are in the preliminary stage, Singleton said he would be continuing to work with town officials in developing the plans in accordance with local zoning regulations and also with representatives of the Shawsheen Village Neighborhood Association.

The building area would have to be rezoned and the planning timetable calls for presentation of the change to an apartment district for the annual town meeting next spring.

The front or "green" area facing North Main street, would be kept in its present state, or have additional landscaping.

Also, the plans call for retention of the "Valley Forge" stone house on Haverhill street.

Voter Turnout Poor In Andover

Andover voters stayed away from the polls in droves Tuesday, in a primary election which had some dramatic results.

Only 20 per cent of the town's registered 14,063 voters participated in Tuesday's election, 2,172 Democrat and 668 Republican ballots being cast.

The sparse turnout did contribute to total results which saw State Senator William X. Wall, veteran Beacon Hill legislator squeak by challenger Atty. James Shannon by eight votes. A recount is anticipated for the district senate seat which includes precincts one through four in Andover, the city of Lawrence and towns of Tewksbury and Billerica.

In Andover, Shannon outpolled Wall, 902 to 476.

Andover Democrats supported a change in the membership of the county commission, lending backing to North Andover candidate Selectman Joseph Guthrie with 1,078 votes and John W. McKean of Beverly, 8821 over incumbents Daniel J. Burke, 421 and Mrs. Katherine Donovan, 772.

In the county totals, McKean and Mrs. Donovan won nomination, with Mrs. Donovan edging Guthrie by about 225 votes. Guthrie is considering a recount, but no decision had been made as of late Wednesday.

Area candidates received support of Andover voters in their bids for other offices on the Democrat ballot, with Thomas F. Dunn of North Andover topping the field in the clerk of courts contest here with 527 votes. Ultimate winner in the contest, City Clerk James D. Leary of Peabody had 105 votes in Andover.

John F. Markey of North Andover received Andover sup-

To Discuss Warrant Issues

The Andover League of Women Voters will be holding three meetings next week to discuss the articles on the warrant for the Oct. 4 town meeting.

All interested citizens are invited to attend one of these sessions, which are the League's first series of units this year.

The schedule of meetings is as follows: Monday, Sept. 20, at noon, at the home of Andy Stevens, 53 School St.; Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 9:15 a.m., at Margo Bixby's, 17 Stinson Rd. (babysitting arrangements for this meeting can be made by calling Joyce Leary, 80 Spring Grove Road); and Thursday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Lucky Lyons, 44 High St.

League members wish to remind everyone that Thursday is the night of the first presidential debate, sponsored by the National League of Women Voters. The unit meeting that night is scheduled earlier than usual and will conclude in time for everyone to watch the debate on television.

Environmental Impact Study At Library

The environmental impact study done in connection with the proposed regional solid waste facility in Haverhill is now on file at Memorial Hall library.

The solid waste plant is designed to serve the Merrimack Valley communities, as well as others in the general area.

Local officials indicate that the study report could well be included among recommended reading.

Police, Fire Candidates Sought

Often local or area candidates for appointment to police and fire position have successfully taken civil service examinations, without making known their intentions to local officials.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said this week that in some cases local candidates are on lists, or have taken the examination and fail to let local officials know of their availability.

If there are such candidates in this area, they should notify the town manager's office in order to permit consideration for appointment.

In the past few years some civilian employees, assigned to desk and clerical duties at the public safety center, have gone on to take the civil service exam and become eligible for permanent appointment.

Such is true, particularly in the police department with three of the most recent appointees moving from civilian status to regular force, through civil service procedures.

Final Voter Registration

Saturday and Monday will be the final days for registration of new voters to be eligible for participating in the October town meeting.

Registrars of voters will be in session on Saturday from 12 noon to 10 p.m. and again on Monday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. This will also be an opportunity for new voters to get on the rolls for the Presidential election in November.

Special sessions will be scheduled in all the precincts prior to the November election. New voters may also register any day during normal working hours at the town clerk's office in the town house.

Want Responsibility Waived

Selectmen have asked Rep. Gerald Cohen to introduce a bill to the next session of the legislature which will remove the board as being responsible for character references.

The board must act on character reference with respect to change in managers of alcoholic beverage establishments, new corporations, etc.

The state secretary's office no longer has the staff to process such requests from communities, thus approval is now given by the board based on sworn statements.

Selectmen would like to have the responsibility removed from their shoulders, since there is no way to adequately conduct any investigations.

School Road Will Be Plowed

Following some discussion about fears of setting a precedent, the selectmen Monday night approved the town plowing a road for the Christ Church Special Nursery school.

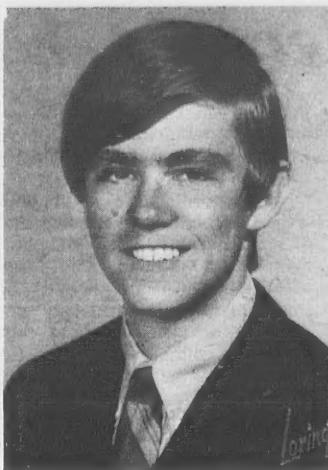

The school had provided a legal document, approved by counsel, holding the town harmless from any liability in connection with the plowing operations.

Tentative approval had been given the matter at an August meeting.

Monday night, Selectman Alan F. French said he had no doubt about the worthiness of such a move,

Historic District Group Examines Questions

A public hearing on the proposed Central Street Historic District will be held at 7:30 tonight in Memorial Hall Library. Final action on the district will then be taken by voters at the October Town Meeting.

Meanwhile, the Historic District Study Committee, an offshoot of the Andover Bicentennial Committee, has been told it's "too soon to tell" how historic district status has affected property values in communities that already have them.

The local group has also answered a number of questions asked recently by residents of the proposed district and the town as a whole.

In a letter to Mrs. Donald Gammon, chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, Realtor Eugene Bernardin said he had asked historic district chairmen in nine communities, which he felt were "closest in flavor" to Andover, whether acceptance of a historic district had caused property values in the district and the town as a whole to go up or down, and why.

Chairmen in Northboro, Wenham, Georgetown, Wayland, Beverly, Sharon, Winchendon, Wareham and Belmont, Bernardin said, indicated that the concept of historic districts "is too new in adoption to define clearly whether or not the values within the area have changed more than they would have if the historic district had not been adopted."

Bernardin also called realtors in Northboro, Georgetown, Wayland and Sudbury, and they too felt "it's too soon to tell," but that values seem to parallel other values in town.

How It Would Affect Owners

One of the main questions that has arisen since the study committee recommended the acceptance of Central Street as a historic district, is how the property owners in the designated area would be affected.

According to the committee, concern would be only with the exterior design of new construction and alterations of existing features in public view such as windows, doors, fences and signs.

The Historic District Commission, which would regulate the district, would not pass judgment on storm windows or storm doors, screens, window air conditioners, television antennae, or the collar of paint or roofing. It would also not rule on interiors, regulate the use of land or buildings, control subdivision of lots, or review any existing building features.

They emphasize that historic district status would not stop construction, modification, or normal maintenance of structures within the area. It would assure that any major changes or additions to the neighborhood, such as gas stations, a shopping center, housing development or public buildings, would blend with the general appearance of the district.

In Andover, the study committee says, there would be considerable latitude for acceptable construction designs because of the diversity of architectural styles that already exists.

How District Would Be Regulated

Another frequent question is how the historic district would be regulated.

A Historical District Commission would be appointed by the Board of Selectmen and empowered by the state to act in an advisory capacity to the district. Commission members would represent various community groups such as the Andover Historical Society, the local chapter of the American Institute of Architecture, the Andover Planning Board, the local Board of Relators, and residents of the district.

The commission would help preserve the special atmosphere of the district, advise the community in making decisions affecting the appearances of their historical buildings, encourage designs for new construction which would be compatible with the architecture in the district and guard against physical changes which would harm the historical and architectural characteristics of the district.

The only features which could be regulated would be exterior ones visible from public streets and ways.

Remodeling, Building Would Be Allowed

If a property owner wanted to undertake exterior alterations or new construction, he would submit his plans to the Commission, which would first rule on whether the plans involved any exterior architectural work subject to its review. If so, the Commission would have to make a decision on the plan within 60 days, after a public hearing.

If its decision were favorable, the Commission would award a "certificate of appropriateness," or in a case where financial or other hardship led to approval of other wise unacceptable alterations a "certificate of hardship."

A negative decision by the commission could be appealed.

Any architectural feature damaged or destroyed by fire, storm or the like could be reconstructed without commission review, as long as construction work started within a year of the disaster.

Why A District?

The committee lists among the advantages of a historic district, the preservation of remaining historical areas and buildings, and the opportunity for the community to take part in decisions which might affect its physical appearance and form and thus its future - - decisions concerning highways and power lines, street signs, commercial development, city landscaping, new housing developments and the like.

The Committee also says that homeowners within a historical district seem to take pride in knowing that their community has a unique history which sets it apart from the ordinary suburban neighborhood, and therefore tend to take better care of their property and maintain it well.

Students Returning For Academy's 199th Year

Phillips Academy will open its doors to new students on Saturday for its 199th year, with 40 new matriculants from Andover and 8 from North Andover.

Most of PA's new boys and girls, chosen from 2,269 applicants, will arrive in Andover with their parents in town to register, shop for the everyday necessities of Dormitory life away from home, and settle in for the year. Older student leaders will guide the new students in Orientation exercises: patrols of a dozen new students each will be sent off to teeter on rope walks in the Sanctuary, cooperate in projects in the Arts and Communications Center, and go rock climbing at Den Rock Park, to familiarize them with their new campus and its surroundings and to help them make new friends.

The "old" academy students will be on campus by Monday, Sept. 20. On Wednesday students will register for their classes from among more than 250 courses offered in the three trimesters of the academic year. On Thursday, Sept. 23, classes will begin at the oldest and largest incorporated boarding school in the nation.

On the brink of its 200th anniversary (next year), PA will have 1,116 students. Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and Methuen day students this year will number 171. The total student population is exactly the same as last September, but the number of girls has gone up to 287 — more than one-third of the originally all-male Academy.

Among the students are foreign nationals from Bangladesh, Bermuda, Canada, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, France, Japan, Korea, Norway, Malaysia, Thailand and West Germany.

The Academy's outreach beyond its regular student body will include the Andover Evening Study Program, offered locally for more than 40 years, and the Short Term Institutes at Andover now in their third year. The Short Term Institutes bring high school students from as far away as Oregon and California to the campus each fall, winter and spring for several weeks of concentrated study in a single subject. Both programs are taught by experienced PA faculty members.

The Andover Evening Study Program, combined again this year with the town of Andover's Recreation/Community Schools Program, opens Monday, Sept. 27. The fall session of the Short Term Institutes will open Nov. 8 with Institutes in Advanced Photo Illustration and in Methods in Physical Science (MS). ### Checking On Bus Service

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Berger of Timothy Drive, check on information regarding the after school bus service being initiated this year under the direction of the League of Women Voters. Rebecca Harris of the LWV was on duty at East Junior High Monday night during the registration for Recreation/Community schools programs.

"It's 4 O'Clock. Do you know where your children are?" They're in gymnastics classes at the "Y", at Boy Scout meetings, at ballet lessons and at the library doing research. They're also working at part-time jobs, getting haircuts and

Registration Monday

General registration for the ten week Fall Term program of the Andover - North Andover YMCA opens Monday at 9 a.m. at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. Many of the over 300 programs described in the Fall Term folder of the YMCA are open to interested individuals who are not Full Privilege Members of the "Y". Individuals who did not receive a folder by mail may pick one up at the new YMCA building. The fall term begins the week of Sept. 27 for almost all scheduled activities. Notable exceptions are ice skating and a battery of workshops which start later and St. Augustine's gym classes, an abbreviated tennis program and women's climbing, all of which start prior to the opening of the term.

The YMCA fall program includes program items of interest to pre-schoolers 3 years of age and over and to Senior Citizens, with program categories in between as follows: boys, girls, youth, men, women, adults and families. The programs will be conducted at the new YMCA building and two satellite YMCA buildings, at 10 Brook St., Andover and 33 Johnson St., North Andover, also at Phillips Academy and other locations.

A school of fish has no leader, but those on the edges are the eyes for the others. When tuna sight prey, dark bands form on their flanks signaling to the others that food is nearby. Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

going to the dentist. They're bowling, playing tennis, buying Christmas presents, having skates sharpened and getting ice cream cones.

The Andover After School Bus Service plans routes which will provide transportation to many of these and other activities. Ticket holders will be entitled to an unlimited number of rides during the school year. Trombly Motor Coach Service, who will be running the new bus service, emphasizes that it will be up to the parents to set limits on where their children may go on the bus.

Buses will be at all public schools at dismissal time to pick up children. Routes will take them to the Andover - North Andover YMCA on Haverhill St., Memorial Hall Library downtown, and schools where Recreation Community Schools classes are meeting.

Buses for return service will leave the Y, East Junior High, and the Library at approximately 4:30, and follow routes to and from neighborhood elementary schools. Buses will also be at the High School at 5:30 to pick up participants in sports activities. Specific routes and schedules will be published before service begins.

Tickets, good for the entire school year, must be purchased now. The Andover League of Women Voters, who were instrumental in initiating the bus service, wants to stress that the running of the buses depends directly on the number of tickets sold at this time. In the event that not enough tickets are sold to finance the service, all money will be refunded.

Ticket application forms are available at the YMCA, the Library, Thompson's stationery store and the Recreation Community Schools office at 36 Bartlett St., or they can be obtained directly from Trombly Motor Coach Service, Inc., Rt. 125 By-Pass, North Andover.

Honored By YMCA

The Ninth Annual "Recognition of Volunteer Service" program of the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. was held Tuesday evening at the new Y.M.C.A. building in Andover. A total of 135 adults and older teenagers were invited guests of the Association at the annual event which honors members who contribute of their time and talents to other members of the organization. Those present represented a total of 553 volunteers who gave 18,844 hours to the Y.M.C.A. this year. The local branch is considered to be the leader, certainly in the Northeastern Region and probably in the entire country, in the area of involvement of its family of members in service.

Program Director Elaine Kent presided and introduced speakers including: President Douglas N. Howe, Sr. and Executive Director Richard P. Cate of the local branch, President Joseph Daly and General Director Edward B. Bruce of the parent Greater Lawrence Y.M.C.A. and Physical Director Janet R. Mead who gave the Invocation and Benediction.

Fall Fair At New Y

The annual "Fall Fair" of the Andover - North Andover YMCA will take place on Saturday, Sept. 25 at the new YMCA building and surrounding grounds, 1645 Haverhill St., Andover. Co-chairwomen Dorothy Leslie and Gail Seeley are heading a hardworking organization which has been busy much of the summer in preparation for this event, a second addition of the fair which was so well received a year ago.

Opening at 11 a.m. the fair will continue through the afternoon climaxing with a spaghetti supper which will be served 4:30-6:30 p.m. The executive committee for the supper includes: Chairman Allen Maxwell, Dana Shattuck, and Jean Gable. Advance registrations are required for the supper and may be made at the YMCA office.

The most successful of last year's fair booths will again prove attractive to the general public as well as YMCA members and friends. Included are the following categories: Decorations, Pastel Portraits, Handcrafts, Needlework, Jams and Jellies, Canned Goods, Games for Children, Hot Dogs and Drinks, White Elephant Booth, Bakery Table, Farm Produce, Plants, Used Books, Children's Items under $1.00.

State DPW Projects Exceed $100M Mark

Governor Michael Dukakis and Public Works Commissioner John J. Carroll announced that the Massachusetts Department of Public Works during the first eight months of 1976 topped $100,000,000 in advertising of various types of highway projects.

Commissioner Carroll stated that the goal of the Department of Public Works is to exceed 175 million dollars in advertised construction projects for the year 1976. This would make two consecutive years that the Department has exceeded this figure.

Projects included in the 100 million dollars already under way are $46,400,000 in Interstate work; $22,000,000 on all types of Maintenance projects; $5,000,000 in Primary-Secondary Rural projects; $5,000,000 in Urban System projects; $2,060,000 for State Aided City/Town projects and over $19,000,000 on various other Federal Aid Programs.

Projected projects in the estimated 75 million dollars worth of jobs to be ready for bids between September to December include $28,500,000 to complete the Interstate Safety Upgrading Program on I-91, I-95, I-495 and I-195. Other major projects include a $4,600,000 project for the construction of I-495 in Mansfield; $10,500,000 for the continuation of the I-190 Interchange at Route 2 in Leominster; $13,300,000 for the completion of the last segment of Route 52 in Auburn-Oxford; $3,800,000 for Boston's Huntington Ave. reconstruction, and $1,200,000 for Pittsfield's North and South Streets.

Many major bridge projects are also on the DPW schedule. Among them are $800,000 for repairs to the Chelsea Street Bridge in East Boston; $3,000,000 for Lowell's High 'S' Bridge; $2, 000,000 for replacing the bridge deck of the Newburyport-Amesbury I-95 Bridge over the Merrimack River; $750,000 for replacing the Mishawum Road Bridge in Woburn; $560,000 for the Route 116 Bridge in Conway; $725,000 for the work on the Route 9 Bridge over Fort River in Amherst.

The Commonwealth on its Federal-aid projects will receive a Federal reimbursement averaging more than 80 percent.

Governor Dukakis commended the Federal Highway Administration, Regional Planning Agencies, State and local officials and the Mass DPW for the cooperation necessary for this outstanding performance.

The Governor emphasized that this accomplishment is a positive step towards revitalizing the economy of Massachusetts. He and Commissioner Carroll extended their personal congratulations to all DPW employees for their role in making 1976 another banner year for the Department of Public Works.

College Accredited

Andover Junior college has received accreditation as a junior college for a six-year period by the Accrediting Commission of the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools. Dr. Jack Nesson, the College president, announced today.

There are approximately 425 full time students in the Day and Evening Divisions of the college. Applications are still being accepted for fall classes beginning September 13 and 14 in the Division of Continuing Education, and September 27 in the Day Division. Financial aid is still available to qualified applicants.

On May 16, 1975 degree granting status was given to Andover Junior College (formerly Andover School of Business) by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Board of Higher Education. The College has authority to grant the Associate in Applied Science degree with majors in accounting, management, and executive secretarial science. One-year certificate programs are offered leading to the position of bookkeeper, clerk-typist, machine-transcribing secretary, retail manager, and administrative secretary.

During the 1975 fiscal year, emergency unemployment assistance legislation extended benefits to groups previously not covered and increased the length of time that benefits could be paid, according to the annual report of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Reviewing Questionnaire

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Assistant Manager Sheldon Cohen review Growth Policy questionnaire being mailed to residents of the community this week. The statistical information and questionnaire are designed to assist the local growth policy committee in developing a report on the town's future.

Growth Survey In Mail

Andover residents will be receiving growth Policy questionnaires in the mail this week as an effort toward getting input from the citizenry with regard to the town's future.

The Growth Policy committee, appointed earlier this year by the selectmen at the request of the state planning agency, has been working on the drafting of the report which is aimed at taking current statistical data and local public feeling and designing the community's future course.

Assistant Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen, who has been working with the committee headed by Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, notes that it takes only a few moments to go through the questionnaire and indicate preferences to various growth policy matters.

A return envelope is provided and responses will be accepted up to Friday, Sept. 24.

The questionnaire format is similar to one done a year ago regarding the Central Business District, with the exception that the one being mailed this week is broader in scope.

Contained with the mailing is some statistical data regarding the town's current growth pattern in such areas as new construction, population, employment, open space, tax base, school enrollment and school construction.

The Growth Policy committee is planning to hold a public meeting on the matter following the October town meeting at East Junior High auditorium, the plan being to afford an opportunity for a large audience to participate in the formulation process.

County Republicans To Meet

Essex County Republicans are making plans for a kick-off rally on Friday, September 17, at the Danvers State Armory. The event is being sponsored by the Danvers Republican Town Committee in honor of all Republican candidates for office in Essex County.

Senator William L. Saltonstall of Manchester, who is working with the Republican organizations in the area in making arrangements, stated, "We want to get together to express our unity and support for the winners of all primary contests — Presidential, Congressional, County Commissioners, Governor's Council, and candidates for the legislature. All those who are running in the primary have agreed that this is a good idea and are planning to attend. This will be the kick-off for the November election campaign in our area. The public is invited, and we urge everyone to come and get acquainted with the candidates."

The U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration provides benefits to coal miners disabled by black lung or their survivors.

The reception will be held from 7 to 11 p.m. There is no admittance charge, but there will be a cash bar. The Danvers State Armory is located off Route 1 in Danvers near the Ramada Inn.

In addition to the Danvers Republican Committee, other members of the planning group include the Essex County Women's Republican Club, the Essex Club, Republican town chairmen, and Essex County members of the Republican State Committee.

Parents' Roles And Rights Focus Of Home-School Workshop

The Merrimack Education Center will sponsor a workshop especially for parents, volunteers, and citizens concerned with and interested in education on Monday, Oct. 18 from 8:45 a.m. till 1:30 p.m. at Aldersgate Methodist Church on Route 4, Chelmsford.

Topics to be covered include effective parenting, learning activities to use at home with your children, citizen action in education, tips on effective fund-raising, building a school playground, setting up a volunteer program, producing slide-tapes for a parent audience, publishing handbooks and newsletters, and many others. The charge for the program will cover the cost of resource speakers and materials to be distributed, and it is hoped parent organizations and schools might send representatives to this workshop.

Following registration, presentations will be offered at three sessions running from 9:15 till 10:15, 10:30 till 11:30, and 12:15 to 1:15. Babysitting will be available at no additional charge, and those attending may either bring a lunch or purchase one during the 11:30 to 12:15 "break."

To make a reservation, send your name, address, telephone number and conference fee to Parents' Rights & Roles, Merrimack Education Center, 101 Mill Rd., Chelmsford, Mass. 01824.

To Participate In Ideal Society Program

Can an "ideal society" be created in Greater Lawrence Area?

John Stieber, director of the

Fire Log

The following is a report of the activities of the Andover Fire Department for the period commencing Sept. 7 and ending Sept. 13.

September 7 - Box 641, 33 Enmore St., Mr. D. Robichaud, building fire; off Mt. Vernon St., Temple Emanuel Cemetery, brush fire; Box 61, Shetland Properties off York St., partition fire.

September 9 - Box 565, Senior High School, internal alarm trouble; off Chestnut Court, Town Property, brush fire.

September 10 - Willard Circle, Mr. R. Anderson, oil burner fire; Box 15, St. Augustine School, off Central St., false alarm.

American Foundation for the Science of Creative Intelligence (AFSCI), a service organization which teaches the Transcendental Meditation program, thinks so.

"The purpose of our Ideal Society Campaign," says Stieber, is to inspire the community to action for the purpose of achieving a society which fosters the full unfoldment of human potential. This is a goal shared by all the creative and responsible members of our community although methods of achieving this goal are different for different people. The TM program, we feel, is one very effective means to create an "ideal society."

The group will inaugurate their campaign at a two-part symposium entitled "Create an Ideal Society" on Sept. 21 and 22 at the Lawrence Public Library at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of these meetings is to provide a proper forum for the interchange of ideas and methods of creating an ideal society in the Greater Lawrence area.

Discussing their fields of expertise in relationship to the creation of an ideal society at the first meeting will be Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, Andover; Ald. Terrance Schiavone, director of public safety, Lawrence; Dr. Robert Walsh, chairman of the board of health, Andover; and Robert Henderson, president of Andover Savings Bank.

The second night of the symposium will feature Mitchell Mazur, chairman of the Andover Transcendental Meditation Center discussing the role of the T.M. program in the creation of the Ideal Society.

The symposium is free and open to the public.

Fall Term Program At YW

The Greater Lawrence YWCA will begin the Fall Term the week of Sept. 20. All classes meet once a week unless otherwise noted. The YWCA offers a variety of classes to meet the needs of every age group from six months up.

For the very young, the program includes Mom and Tot Arts and Crafts (3-5). This is a class where mothers participate with their children. Co-ed Arts and Crafts (4-5) is for children who can participate without mother's help. Kinderclub (4-5) is a class where children learn basic skills needed for Kindergarten. For recreational programs, children may join Co-ed Gymnastics (4-7) on Monday afternoon. They will learn basic gymnastic skills. Co-ed Kindergym (4-6) on Thursday mornings teaches exploration of movement and different pieces of play equipment, and Mon and Tot Kindergym (2-4) on Thursday mornings has mother and child exploring different activities together.

Pool classes include Mon and Tot (6 months to 5 years). These classes are based on each mother teaching her child with an instructor's help. There is a Mon and Tot class offered each day of the week. For more information, call the YWCA.

For children (3-6) who can participate in a class without mother, the Y offers Tot Swim classes. Tot Grad classes give children who can swim at least 30 feet a class of their own; children 3-6 who can swim this distance without help are welcome in the Thursday afternoon class.

For teens, the YWCA has started several teen clubs. The Outreach Program is a special time just for 6th and 7th graders. It will meet Tuesday afternoons. Watch for more details.

Senior High Club is for grades 9-12. With an advisor's help, the girls will participate in arts and crafts, recreation, swimming, pool, table tennis, camping, field trips and workshops that they plan. This group meets Wednesday from 3-4 p.m.

The YWCA's Teen Center will be open Wednesday from 4-5 p.m. and Friday 3-5 p.m. Drop-in activities include pool, table tennis, talking, records and some co-ed activities. Any girl 10-17 is welcome.

Teen Education class in Piano meets Monday and Thursday. Sewing is offered on Saturday. New classes are Multi-Media Crafts which will cover macrame, weaving, salt dough and india ink and which will meet for four weeks on Saturday mornings from 9:30-11 a.m. and also Photography, which is a four week course covering a basic photo workshop and how to develop your own film.

The gym and pool offers Barrel of Fun on Saturday for 7-13 year olds, a morning out for teens which includes gymnastics, games and swim from 11:30 to 1:30. Also offered on Saturdays are Cheerleading (7-12), Gymnastics on the beginning or advanced level and several Swim Classes. Other Gymnastic classes on the beginning level are offered on Tuesday and Thursday; on the intermediate level on Monday; and on the advance level on Tuesday. Tennis is being offered on Fridays. A new class competitive Swim Class, for girls and boys 8 and up that some day would like to be on a swim team will be held on Monday; an Advanced Life Saving course is being held on Wednesday, and Swim Classes are also offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For those teens who would like to participate on a team, the Y offers a Gymnastics team, a Swim team or a Gynchornized Swim team. Those interested should call 687-0331 for details.

The Adult Department offers many fun and informative educational classes. Some of the old stand-by classes being offered are Beginning Bridge on Mondays, Cake Decorating on Wednesdays, Crewel on Tuesday, Decoupage on Wednesday, Knitting and Crochet on Wednesday, Lampshades on Tuesday, Macrame on Tuesday, Oils and Acrylics on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, and Pottery on Tuesday.

The Y is also holding some classes in conjunction with the Lawrence Continuing Education Self-Enrichment program including Beginning Sewing on Monday, Candy Shop and Home Sweets on Thursday evening, Introduction to Draperies and Bedspreads on Wednesday, Lead-Ed Stained Glass on Wednesday, Rug Hooking on Tuesday and Unravelling Travelling - a fun course for those who dream of faraway places - on Wednesday.

The Christmas Workshop offers an opportunity for Brownie and Scout leaders to learn new crafts; Cone Wreaths is a five week course designed to show you the basics of wreath construction and decoration; Evening Painting Course is for those who would like to learn to paint but can't make our day classes; Multi Media Craft is a series of five individual workshops showing the basics of simple weaving, salt dough art, macrame, quilting and India Ink craft, and Straw Wreaths is a mini course which will show you how to make your own holiday wreaths out of straw.

Two one-day workshops are also being offered: Rosemaking on Tuesday, Oct. 12 and Quilting on Tuesday, Nov. 16.

In addition to the education classes, there are also recreation and swim classes. These include Ballroom Dancing on Monday night, Belly Dancing (both beginners and intermediate) on Tuesday night; Jazz Dancing on Monday night. Gymnastics on the beginning level will meet on Wednesday or Thursday morning, and the intermediate group will meet on Monday. Gymnastics is a great way to get and stay in shape!

All tennis classes will meet on Tuesdays. Classes are offered for beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates. Trimnastic classes are a good way to keep in shape or to obtain the shape you want. Classes are forty minutes long and have exercises for all parts of the body. Choose a class on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evening, or Wednesday morning.

Volleyball is offered in two forms on Wednesday morning. One class is just for fun and exercise and a second class is for those skillful players who want a little more challenge. All YOGA classes will meet Thursday evening. There will be three levels - Beginning I, Beginning II and Intermediate.

Two new classes have entered the fall program. Self-Defense for Women will meet Wednesday nights for 5 weeks. Mr. Giordano of the Methuen Police will instruct the class. Racket Ball for those who have tried a racket sport or for those who would like to try one will be held on Friday. Everyone will enjoy this new class.

In the swim department, Diving for women who want to improve their skills and learn new dives will be given on Wednesday mornings; American Red Cross Life Saving meets Wednesday evenings. For those interested in life guarding or teaching swimming and those who want to be well prepared for water activities, this class is a must.

Basic swimming skills are taught in Swim Classes Monday and Thursday mornings and evenings. Each person will work on her own level. Terrified Swim is for those who want to learn to swim but are afraid of getting into too large a class, those who are afraid of starting lessons, and those who don't want to be pushed too fast. Class meets Monday mornings. Water Exercise is a non swimming class for those women who would like to keep in shape while being refreshed in the pool. Monday evenings, Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Consumer Expert To Address ERA Group

Paula W. Gold, chief of the Consumer Protection Division, department of the attorney general and Sister Peggy Comfrey, a member of the Sisters of St. Josephs of Boston have agreed to speak at the ERA Campaign-Kickoff Luncheon, Saturday, Sept. 18 at Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill. The luncheon is sponsored by the Committee to Ratify the Mass. State Equal Rights Amendment - Northern Essex Division.

Ms. Gold, a graduate of Boston College Law School, was Commissioner of the Mass. Dept. of Public Utilities before assuming her present post as Chief of Consumer Protection. She has also taught law classes at Boston College, Harvard and Boston University. She is currently Director of the Mass. Civil Liberties Union and Director of the Ford Hall Forum.

Sister Peggy Comfrey, is presently working at the Paulist Center, Boston in the office of Social Ministry. She is Massachusetts State Coordinator for NETWORK, a religious lobby for social justice and is working primarily for ERA and other Women's Legislation. She should prove to be a most provocative speaker.

Congressman Michael Harrington, Karen Lindsey, columnist for the Herald-American and Roberta Benjamin, Legal Counsel to the Committee to Ratify the Massachusetts State Equal Rights Amendment, Boston will also participate in the panel discussion "Points of View: The ERA". Elaine Altman of No. Andover will moderate the discussion.

Christine Gallagher, Andover and Nancei Radicchi, Methuen will be handling the food arrangements. Joy Roberson, North Andover and Suzanne Robinson, North Andover are in charge of publicity and posters. Sue Buehler, Andover, tickets and Naomi Schertzer, Andover, for providing the facilities at Northern Essex Community College.

All the food to be used at the luncheon will be donated and prepared by the various women's groups involved on the Committee to Ratify the Mass. State Equal Rights Amendment so that the cost of the luncheon will be minimal and available to all who wish to attend. Baby sitting will be available.

Smoothest School Opening

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert Tuesday night called this year's school opening the smoothest he's seen in his eight years in Andover — except for some busing problems.

Seifert told the School Committee there will have to be some adjustments in some routes because "we have pulled the routes a little too tight."

The Busing is further complicated this year with the addition to the traditional school alternative at West Elementary School.

Those youngsters, as well as those who go to St. Augustine's take regular buses to their neighborhood school, then board shuttle buses for West Elementary or St. Augustine's.

Seifert said some buses are arriving at school 10 to 15 minutes late, and that it may mean putting on additional buses. He said he would return to the committee if more busing funds were required.

Meanwhile, Seifert also reported that school enrollment so far is off about 100 pupils from last spring. Some elementaries are up and some down, he said, for a net loss of nearly 200. The junior highs are up 50 to 60 each and the high school is down some.

Seifert said, however, that there is still a lot of movement and that firm enrollment figures, for use in developing staffing patterns, shouldn't be set at least, until next Monday.

Car Wash

The Andover High School band members will conduct a car wash Saturday at the Andover Savings Bank parking lot and the West Junior High school parking lot.

An accurate speedometer is important — especially in view of strict enforcements of the 55 mph speed limit in some states. The American Automobile Association offers these guides for checking the accuracy of a car's speedometer. If the car is traveling at 55 mph, it will take exactly 66 seconds to get from one mile post to another. At 50 mph, it will take 72 seconds.

Once you know the facts, there's no way you can vote for a State-run Power Authority.

No way.

Fact 1. If the State takes over the electric business your towns and communities stand to lose millions of dollars in property taxes.

Fact 2. There are no competent studies which prove that you will save one dime on your electric bill. In fact, you'll probably pay more. That's why other states rejected similar plans.

Fact 3. New power plants must be built. Yet the State has an almost perfect record of coming in late and over budget on everything it constructs. That's one reason for your ridiculously high State taxes.

Fact 4. Look at the way the State runs the MBTA, State pension funds, welfare, then ask yourself how they would run a complex business like electricity!

Fact 5. When a Nor'easter hits your area and your lights go out, whom do you call? The electric companies' ability to meet these crises is unmatched. Would the State be there in a big storm, climbing the poles at 3 AM?

Fact 6. If your electric company wants a rate increase it has to go before a government board to plead its case. A State-run power authority could raise the rates anytime it pleased, with absolutely no appeal.

A State Power Authority is a dangerous experiment. And once it's in, there's no turning back. You're going to have to learn to live with it. And you're not going to like it.

Don't let the State take the power from the people. Vote against creating another Politically-Appointed State Bureaucracy.

Interior Changes

Sacred Heart

Garage buildings would be demolished and the rear area of the building used for 92 parking spaces for tenants of the apartments.

Singleton told the TOWNSMAN that negotiations with the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, owners of the property have not as yet been concluded, but he is hopeful that a purchase option agreement can be reached within the next two or three weeks.

Planning would then proceed toward working with town officials and Shawsheen neighbors to come up with a compatible package for town meeting of Spring, 1977.

It is anticipated that it would take 16 months from town meeting time to get the building ready for tenants.

There will be 60 one bedroom units and 20 two bedrooms.

Rents will be in the moderate to upper bracket.

No exterior changes are contemplated for the building, originally the administrative office for the American Woolen Co., and in recent years the Sacred Heart boarding school.

There will be no outside amenities, such as pools or tennis courts.

Singleton said the property was looked upon by his group and the Anderson-Notter Associates, Ind., architectural firm, as "a significant building and a great location."

This is a view of a typical interior in the apartment complex at the A.C. Lawrence Tannery, Peabody, accomplished by The Crowninshield Corp., which proposes to do similar work at the Sacred Heart building in Shawsheen building, with architects working toward preserving some of the interior beauty of the former American Woolen Co. administration building.

The negotiation process now underway for purchase of the building would open up the approach for the town to acquire the 28 acres of land for conservation and recreation. Singleton said Crowninshield had no interest in the area and would be happy to have the town acquire it, the area being "a plus for us."

The Sacred Heart Brothers have indicated that only the total package was available in prior discussion with the town about acquiring the land only.

Town meeting last spring approved providing funds for land acquisition and also the Cardinal Cushing gymnasium. Singleton told the Tuesday meeting that his firm has not contemplated use for the gym building at this time.

Of concern to the Shawsheen neighbors Tuesday night was traffic and parking problems.

It was noted that many families now have two cars, thus there could be a problem with the 92 spaces provided for 80 apartments. Singleton said this would be a matter for further examination in the final planning stages.

To suggestions of putting a deck or an underground garage, Singleton said these would be too costly for consideration.

Singleton indicated he was more than happy to meet with their group and to bring them to Peabody where one of the company's major projects has won national acclaim.

Crowninshield Anderson-

Notter Associates took over the A.C. Lawrence Tannery property in Peabody and made it into an apartment complex.

It has also done the Union Station renovation in New London, Conn.

Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the Development Industrial Commission, said that his group was charged by the selectmen to come in with a total package for Sacred Heart.

Spiegel said that the plan as presented by Singleton admits to preparing the total package, in that the town could conceivably obtain the land. Development of the building for apartment use lends itself to a minimal use, yet obtaining for Andover some tax revenue.

Transit Nostalgia At Museum

There's lots to see and do at Boston's Museum of Science during a 14-day observance of National Highway and Transportation Week, starting Monday, September 20.

You'll be tempted to sing, "Buffalo gals, won't you come out tonight," as you step aboard a packet, reproduction of a passenger vessel that plied the Middlesex Canal in the early 1800's. (The song refers to the Erie Canal, but the roistering spirit of canal travel was the same.) The packet will be tied up at the dock behind the Museum and open without charge during Museum hours.

Inside the Museum, you'll indulge in nostalgia at the sight of mannequins wearing the uniforms that Eastern Airlines flight attendants have had over the years. And you'll enjoy the bicycle rider on the antique hi-wheeler from the Museum of transportation.

You'll be brought up sharply to the present when you try the American Automobile Association driver safety tests. You'll look to the future when you study the new South Station model from the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

Ribbon-cutting for the multi-unit exhibition will take place under a green traffic light September 20 with Secretary

Frederick P. Salvucci, Executive Office of Transportation and Construction; Representative Louis Nickinello, Chairman of the House Transportation Committee; and Bradford Washburn, Museum director, officiating. For opening day only, a helicopter will be parked on Museum grounds where visitors may inspect it at close quarters.

In addition to the packet (built by the Woburn Canal Association), more than a dozen displays from governmental and private organizations will remain at the Museum through October 3. They include Massport's models of early planes and MBTA's models of trolley cars; a before-and-after diorama from the Heritage Plantation depicting the restoration of an antique vehicle; an MDC radar speed control unit and a Breathalyzer; aerial photos dating back to 1941 from the Mass. Aeronautical Commission; and enlarged photos and drawings of the Middlesex Canal from the Army Corps of Engineers. Traffic and road signs from the State Department of Public Works add a colorful reminder of America's reliance on the car. Films and slide programs will also be shown at times to be announced.

A demonstration of sky diving at Science Park is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Sept. 26.

Pensive Moment

The thoughts may range from the fun-filled moments of a summer just passed, or to the rigors of the educational challenge, as Beth Howe is caught in a pensive moment during opening day at the Doherty school first grade.

The "Water" exhibit at the Children's Museum Visitors Center, an old favorite, lets you discover the power of water with an assortment of gadgets: a water shooting gallery, a water drop strobe, water tables, pumps, a bubble machine, and more.

Variety Series At Music Hall

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall Fall Variety Series of four musical programs starts its second year on Friday evening, Sept. 24 at 8:30 p.m. Organ music is featured, including the Hall's Great Organ.

E. Power Biggs will open the series on Sept. 24. As a friend and Advisory Council member of the Hall, he will present and contribute his program 50 Famous and Historic Organs of Europe and America. It consists of tape recordings and his commentary on organs dating from 1390 to 1970.

The foremost organist of the present day, E. Power Biggs, who lives in Cambridge, Mass., is internationally renowned through his extensive catalogue of Columbia recordings (CBS in Europe), appearances in the famous churches and concert halls of the world, and his CBS Radio broadcasts, which for a period of sixteen years reached millions of listeners weekly in the United States, Canada, and Europe. He has brought not only a realm of great organ music, but also the sounds of the centuries - 600 years of organ building arts - to listeners everywhere.

Proceeds from this program will be added to funds appropriated by the board of trustees, for construction of the Edward W. Flint Memorial Archives Room, in memory of a former trustee and advisor.

This Fall Variety Series will continue on Oct. 8, Oct. 22, and Nov. 3.

Organ Music for an Autumn evening is the title for Friday, Oct. 8 when Kenneth Wilson, organist, will play a group of transcriptions of popular classics.

The moon is only one-quarter the size of earth.

A solar furnace, built by high school students in Lamar, Missouri, is used to heat school rooms and provide air conditioning, Massachusetts

Audubon says. The unit is made from an old ice cream storage freezer, a polished hay bin for a reflector, and crushed glass for energy storage, at a cost of $12000.

Soccer Team Ready For Season

The Andover High School Soccer team is opened its season Tuesday against Austin Prep of Reading.

Captains Dave Dauber, Rick Dow, and Mike Konjoian are ready to lead the team into competition in the Northern Soccer League, although Dave, the first string goalie will have to do so from the side line for a while, hampered by a badly sprained ankle. The team should be helped this year by transfer students, senior Jeff Hubble, Juniors Rich O'Hara and Toni Cammaratta, and sophomores David Yates, Jess Parks, Young Taekin, and John Kinsky.

Last year's high scoring sophomore Dave Farrell will be back at right wing as soon as his ankle injury is healed. Senior full backs Jim Ness, and Andy Rosen will be helped by junior Bob Zwicker. The all junior half back line of Lony Cammaratta, Peter Chiklis, and Carl Gutermann will be prepared as will be the forward line of Rick Dow, Mike Konjoian, and Frank Comparatto all seniors and junior Dave Johnson.

Chuck Ness will be the goalie while Dave Dauber is out, and he will be backed up by sophomores Erick Ketzler and Jeff Buck.

Fine sophomore prospect, Gregg Moss will be sidelined for most of the season due to a broken collarbone, but many of the sophomores, graduates of both East and West junior high will be soon challenging for some of these positions as they gain experience in the junior varsity schedule.

The competition should be very keen in the Northern League this year, as the two new teams are very strong for first year teams, and the three teams which qualified for the state tournament should be very strong with defending champion Wilmington playing very strong in the jamboree.

six classes: first finisher, first resident finisher, first finisher under 14, first female finisher, first female finisher over 30, and first finisher over 30.

The race begins and ends at the Sanborn Elementary School and covers 5.1 miles of scenic Andover.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and ribbons to second and third place finishers in each division.

Maps of the route and registration forms are available at the Sport Shop and the Recreation/Community Schools Office, 36 Bartlett St.

Swim Program To Begin

The Physical Education Department's Third-Fourth grade swim program for the children from Doherty, South and Shawsheen Elementary School will begin Monday, Sept. 20 at 5 p.m.

The program, entering in its tenth year, screens and provides instruction for those children who are not considered water-safe by the instructional staff.

Parents of third and fourth graders from the three schools will receive specific information this week.

Any questions can be answered regarding the Swim program by calling Richard L. Swift at the high school.

Boating Course To Be Offered

A free boating course, open to the public, will be offered by the Merrimac River Power Squadron, a unit of the United States Power Squadrons. Classes will start on Tuesday, Sept. 21, 7:15 p.m. in the cafeteria of the North Andover High School, 675 Chickering Road, and will be held each Tuesday for twelve weeks.

Topics covered will include: Handling Under Normal and Adverse Conditions, Seamanship and Common Emergencies, Rules of the Road, Aids to Navigation, Compass and chart Familiarization, Running Lights and Equipment, Boat Trailing, River Boating, Mariner's Compass, and Piloting. Students will also be given the opportunity to practice the plotting of courses on nautical charts.

Students completing the course and passing the final examination will be awarded Certificates of Completion. For further information, interested persons may contact Robert H. Sawyer, 20 Fernwood Avenue, Bradford.

Astrophysics At Museum

The dynamic, turbulent, and sometimes violent nature of our galaxy will be the subject of a free lecture series presented by the Hayden Planetarium of the Museum of Science this fall in cooperation with the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics.

"The Milky Way and Beyond" is a series of seven evening lectures by local astronomers who will describe the new view of the galaxies, including our own, as revealed by both recent ground-based and satellite observations.

The lectures will be given on consecutive Wednesday evenings at 8 p.m. in the Cahners Theater of the Museum of Science, Science Park, Boston, beginning Oct. 6. Each 45-minute lecture will be followed by a question and answer period.

New Fall Schedule At Vale Church

Rally Day services were held at the Ballard Vale United Church last Sunday with Richard Darling presenting Bibles to the new third grade class, and giving certificates of appreciation to last year's teaching staff. Mrs. Diane Ely presented certificates to children coming into the Kindergarten Class from the Nursery. Mrs. Hannah Darling worked closely with Rev. David Hollenbeck in organizing the service.

The third grade children who received their Bibles were: Tracy Cassell, Brenda Damon, Charlotte Ferris, Jennifer Ward, Dawn Crowninshield, Linda Farr, Lisa Froburg, Mary Beth Mooney, and Aimee Damon. The youth ushers for the day were Bill Kettinger and Robbie Robinson. The guest soloist was Mrs. Doris Diamond of Lawrence.

The Educational Task Force took the lead in planning a Family Picnic immediately following the morning worship. It was held at the Rolling Ridge Conference center. The Junior and Senior High youth groups held a planning retreat at the Center this weekend also and joined in the picnic activities when the others arrived. New advisors for the youth groups this year include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker, Mrs. Joan Roy, Richard Wilson, Mrs. Peggy McLeod, and Rev. David Hollenbeck.

On Sunday, Sept. 19 the new fall schedule begins at the Ballard Vale Church. Church School classes meet from 9:30 until 10:45 and include classes for youth and adults. The Morning Worship is at the 11 hour. As a special event this Sunday a coffee hour will be held from 10:30 until 11 in Fellowship Hall hosted by Mrs. Ann Salter. The Ballard Vale Pre-School opens on Thursday, Sept. 16, the Senior High youth group meets for its opening meeting on Sunday, Sept. 19 and the Junior High group starts its regular schedule on Wednesday, Sept. 22.

Services For High Holy Days At Temple

The quality and character of the High Holy Days differ from all other holidays in the Jewish Year.

The ten day period beginning with Rosh Hashanah on the first of Tishri and concluding with Yom Kippur on the tenth of Tishri is known as Yamim Noraim, the Days of Awe. These two holy days are not connected with any historical event in the life of the people of Israel, nor is the theme agricultural in nature as are all other festal days. In a very basic sense, the Yamim Noraim are the most personal of the Jewish holy days, speaking only incidentally to the community of Israel. The message is to each person as an individual, requiring him to search his inner being, his life style, his values, his relationships with others. The noble ethical values of the Jewish people are held up as a yardstick through worship in the synagogue, but the responsibility remains with the individual. This is a concept of great sophistication, requiring each to exercise remarkable self-control, incredible insight and the ability to make the necessary changes in life style.

The origins of Rosh Hashanah as the New Year, and Yom Kippur as the Day of Atonement may be found in the Bible, although the Yamim Noraim are really a later development in Judaism, characteristic of a religion having emerged from its agricultural origins. The single most telling symbol of Rosh Hashanah is the blowing of the shofar, cloaked in layers of mysticism and interpretations over the centuries. Today, the shofar calls on Rosh Hashanah morning remind us of the serious introspection demanded of us during the coming ten days, and the shofar have a bone-chilling effect, reaching to the marrow of the human soul.

The prayer service at Temple Emanuel will continue to be significantly important to all worshippers, male and female, young and old as many members of the congregation will be involved in the service. Mrs. Marcia Druth, president of the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood will read a special prayer written by Mrs. Evelyn Chedekel, Mrs. Joan Lewis will participate in the Candle Blessing on Rosh Hashanah Eve and Jeri Zeder, president of the Temple Youth Group will do a reading on Yom Kippur morning.

All of the Torah (Scriptural) readings will be done by teenagers of the congregation. James and Howard Lebowitz will read on the 1st day of Rosh Hashanah and Glenn Levine on the 2nd day. Karen Waks and Barry Levine will do the morning and afternoon reading on Yom Kippur.

Atty. Aaron Bloom, Jack Sawyer and Donald Sherman, president of Brotherhood, will also lead portions of the service.

The Temple president, George Urdang, together with Paul Chedekel, chairman of the Ritual Committee have made the following schedule of services available. Services will be conducted by the Temple Rabbi, Harry A. Roth, together with Cantor Irving Shuman and the Temple Choir.

Rosh Hashanah Services:
Friday night - Eve of Rosh Hashanah - September 24th - 8:15 p.m.; This is a Family Service and congregational members are urged to attend as a family unit.

First Day of Rosh Hashanah, Saturday, Sept. 25th; Shachris (Morning Service) 9 a.m.; Torah Service 9:45 a.m.; Main Festival Service; Sermon; Conclusion of Service 12:30 p.m.

Second Day of Rosh Hashanah, Sunday, Sept. 26th; Same Schedule as above.

During both of these days there will be special children's services, according to various age levels. In addition to sitting service for the very young there will be services conducted on three levels from 1st to 7th grade. These services will be conducted in the school wing of the Temple Emanuel Building and will conclude at the time when the main service ends. Refreshments will be provided for all the young people.

Church School Sessions Begin At South Church

Having dedicated the teachers, officers of the church school and members of the board of christian education last Sunday, church school will resume for classes for the new year on Sunday, Sept. 19 at 10:30 a.m., to include sessions from the Crib Room through Grade 8.

Information regarding the location of classes will be posted in the lower vestibule, and the church-schoolers are to report to their new classrooms.

Rev. Dr. J. Everett Bodge, the pastor, announces that the Confirmation Class will resume also for those in the ninth grade and high school on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. on Sept. 19 in the church parlor.

Plans are underway for forming a Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship, but in the meantime the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship, for those in high school, has begun its program for the Fall, and will meet at the church Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock. Newly elected officers of the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship are: president, Scott Petrie; secretary, Carl Brooks; treasurer, Martha Taft; and church council representative, Brian Mackie.

Further information regarding church school registration and program may be obtained by calling the South Church office.

Fair Plans Underway

Fall activities for members of the Friendly Circle of the Andover Baptist Church began with the September meeting held in the church vestry Monday night.

Major projects as announced by Mrs. Ruth Thompson, president of the Circle, will be in support of the sixth Annual "Ye Olde Tyme Harvest Fair" to be held on Nov. 13, and for which the Friendly Circle has traditionally served as steering committee.

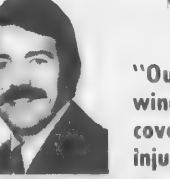

Mrs. Lyle Estell, chairman of the fair committee, received reports from Mrs. Al Evans and Miss Helen Thompson who directed the committee's summer sewing groups. Work nights for all fair projects have been scheduled for Tuesdays between now and the fair date.

The next regular meeting of the Friendly Circle has been changed from the 11th to the 18th of October because of the Monday holiday.

A special program on the 18th will be a Stretch and Sew Demonstration for members and friends.

Dearborn To Address Genealogists

A five weeks genealogy course for beginners, sponsored by the Essex Chapter will begin Saturday, Sept. 25 at 10:30 a.m. at the Lynnfield Public Library. There will be a modest charge.

Future programs of the local Chapter will include a talk on Oct. 16 by David Dearborn, of Andover, assistant Librarian at the New England Historic and Genealogical Society. On Nov. 13, a panel of experts, Mary Thresher of Marblehead, Paul Dingwell, Jr., president of the Norfolk Chapter of MSOG and Eleanor Bishop, of Reading will speak on Migration within New England, Family Associations, and a subject to be announced later. The Christmas Covered Dish Party and annual business meeting of the Essex County Chapter will be held Dec. 18. The Old Meeting House in Lynnfield will be the scene of these last three meetings.

Viruses are round or rod-shaped and are measured in millionths of a millimeter. They do not eat, breathe or grow. After entering a bacteria, a virus incorporates the bacteria into its own structure so that assimilation becomes reproduction, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

Garrett Players Open Season With '1776'

"1776", for which the group received acclaim as the best production at both the New England Theatre Conference Drama Festival and the American Community Theatre Association Regional Festival, will open The Garrett Players, Inc. 15th anniversary season.

The production will be presented at the Garrett theatre, Bavarian Hall, 41 Knox Street, Lawrence, Sept. 17, 18, 19, 24, 25, 26, and Oct. 1, 2 and 3. Friday and Saturday curtain is 8:30 p.m.; Sunday curtain is 7:30 p.m.

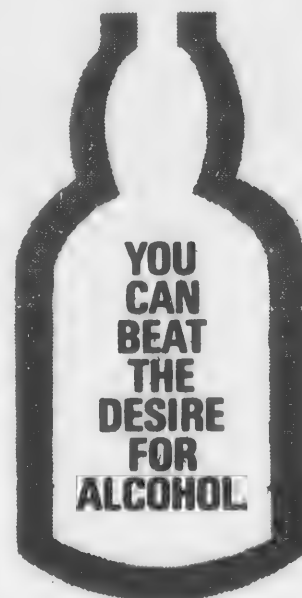

America's award winning musical by Peter Stone and Sherman Edwards, "1776", brings to life the great men and events which surrounded the birth of the United States as a free and independent nation. Historical characters such as Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Richard Henry Lee and John Hancock recreate those months of debate and argument which ensued before the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The play is a remarkable combination of dialogue based on historical fact, combined with a varied musical score beginning with "Sid Down, John" in which the Congress expresses its exasperation with John Adams who is obnoxious and disliked to the dramatic "Is Anybody There?" when John Adams, in the bare Congressional chamber, voices his inner feelings about Congress commitment to the dream of independence.

"1776" takes place in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and in certain reaches of John Adams' mind. Most of the action occurs in Congress where the resolution on independence is proposed by Lee of Virginia, where a declaration is written, objections to its content are raised and debated, and finally, a vote is taken and independence is declared.

Mrs. Jacqueline Gervais of Lawrence is directing "1776". A past president and current executive board member of the Garrett Players, Mrs. Gervais has numerous directing credits.

Musical direction for "1776" is by Russell Bunker, originally from North Andover and now residing in Salem, N. H. Mr. Bunker has worked with both the Garrett Players and the Quannapowitt Players and was pianist for musicals presented during his years at North Andover High School.

Decision Due Monday On Moving Two Houses

Moving houses over the road from one location to another could put the owner out on a limb, so to speak, but John Warlick of Salem, N.H. probably never anticipated taking on the limbs and branches of River road.

Warlick, who has purchased two houses on Arkwright/Boston property in the West Andover Industrial area, appeared before the selectmen Monday night requesting a permit to move the two buildings a distance of about two and one-half miles up River Road toward Tewksbury.

But River Road residents registered objection based on the number of "leaders" (limbs and branches of trees) which would have to be cut. Two trees, which have been severely pruned over the years would have to be cut down, since further pruning would cause sufficient harm.

Atty. Philip Sullivan, counsel for Warlick, explained to the selectmen that he and his client were unaware of a town policy that abutters of the property and those along the route of the move were to be notified by registered mail of the intent. Counsel said he was informed of the policy only last week and an effort to comply was made by getting out a notice in a hurry and posted regular mail on Friday.

Most of the residents were concerned about damage to the trees along the route of the move.

Selectman Alan F. French expressed concern about the "magnitude of scenic damage," and the selectmen agreed to view the route of the move and meet again next Monday night at the library to make a decision.

Katherine E. Maloney, 249 River Road, expressed concern over the trees and particularly in the vicinity of her home, a historic dwelling built in 1740 by one of the famous Andover Abbot family.

She also was concerned about the proximity of the houses being moved as they pass her dwelling which is about four feet off the road, she said.

Edmund H. Sears, III, 399 River Road, also addressed the board expressing concern over the damage to the trees, traffic problems and commented on inadequate notice being given residents of the area.

Atty. Sullivan reiterated that he had been informed of the town's policy on notification only last week. He apologized for the lack of sufficient advance notice and explained that every effort was made to comply with the town's policy, once he and his client were aware of it.

Warlick explained that he realized the inconvenience of the moves as well as the pruning of some of the trees. He said that he would replant trees in the sections where complete removal was effected, if necessary. He said he didn't like the idea of pruning any more than anyone else. He will reside in one of the houses which will be moved, if allowed.

There was question as to the loss of power during the house moves. It was pointed out that there should be no loss of electricity, or at best minimal loss during the procedure.

Such matters as public safety and school busing during the move would have to be worked out with the police, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin explained.

Selectman French, in expressing his concern over the marring of the scenic beauty of the road said he would not want to see something ruined which would take 20 years to repair, such as removal of an old tree replaced by a new tree.

French suggested that the town manager's office coordinate an effort to come up with a schematic of roughly what scenic harm would occur through the moving of the houses.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen said he felt some reasonable solution could be found to the problem noting that irreconcilable differences between the parties would be unreasonable.

It was then suggested that the selectmen themselves view the area and the route of the move before making the decision.

Residents of the area will be notified of the meeting on Monday at the library at which time the decision will be made.

Warlick explained that the agreement made with Arkwright is to have the buildings removed by Sept. 30. He also has contractual agreements with utility, public safety and moving firms for the move.

The Post Office And Other Thoughts

Recently enacted by Congress was some supplemental funds for the post office department, or postal service, with the provision that no action on any rate increases would be allowed until sometime next year.

Possibly Congress, in its wisdom, is awaiting with anxious anticipation the disposition of a new post office site for Andover.

With additional locations offered for consideration last week by the selectmen, along with rejection of two other sites by the board, postal officials must wonder what they must do to provide a new facility in this community.

Offered now for consideration are the lot owned by the Andover Savings Bank, plus the possibility of expansion of the present site through abutting land acquisition.

Rejected by the selectmen were sites on Stevens street and another on Dale street, which the postal service found desirable.

We rather doubt that the commercially zoned lot owned by the Andover Savings bank will ever have the postal facility of the type under consideration.

We are of the opinion that ASB Development Corporation, a subsidiary of the savings bank, is more interested in furthering its original plan to bring some substantial business to the down area.

We would further judge that the price the U. S. Postal service would have to pay for property, either through outright purchase or lease, would be prohibitive in the government's estimation.

As far as developing the present site, through acquisition of adjacent properties, almost the same thoughts apply, the actual obtaining of the property would be economically prohibitive.

As far as the sites rejected by the selectmen, we agree that Stevens street is not the best location in the world for such a facility, considering traffic conditions in the general area.

We can understand the concern of town officials with retention of customer service in a downtown area, something the postal service has said it would do.

Why then, keep coming up with locations, such as the Main street lot, or the property adjacent to the post office as alternative locations?

To date, there have been six locations offered the post office by the town for consideration. All have been rejected due to either not being available for sale, or not conducive to the needs of the post office department.

Postal officials seem intent on providing a new processing facility in Andover.

It seems about time that a little concerted effort be made to negotiate with the postal officials on their choice, in view of none of the town's being available, acceptable or negotiable.

Growth Policy

Residents will be receiving a growth policy questionnaire in the mail this week.

The survey sheet is aimed at making a determination on what the concerns are of the residents about their community and the direction of the town's future.

It takes but a few minutes to examine the questionnaire and make a response.

Accompanying the questionnaire are some statistics about the town which prove interesting.

The few minutes it takes to review the statistics and indicate preferences for the future growth of the community will greatly assist the special commission appointed to develop the town's growth policy statement, and we recommend attention to this matter.

On Nit-Picking

The selectmen, who constantly note the picayune items which command their attention, such as utility pole locations, often find themselves making the proverbial mountains out of molehills.

Monday night, for instance, there was concern and considerable discussion about plowing snow from a driveway for the special school conducted for the handicapped at Christ Church.

Fear was expressed about setting a precedent. What to do if other nursery schools approached the board for similar consideration.

First, it would seem that the school at Christ church is a special consideration and we doubt seriously if any of the other nursery or private pre-school operations would seek such consideration.

As far as precedent setting - - we would assume the selectmen have the ability to weight the merits of any particular case presented to it.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - September, 1901

Marlborough Churchill, son of the late Prof. J. W. Churchill, has been notified that he has successfully passed the examination for the regular Army. He has always desired to enter the service and will be assigned to the artillery.

Next Thursday a special train will take passengers to Lake Winnebago for a 60-mile sail on the Mt. Washington. The round trip will cost $2 and tickets are now on sale at the Andover depot.

William J. Burns has had his delivery wagon painted by Colby. The color is a rich garnet with gold lettering, and the wagon makes a very nobby appearance.

Officer Clinton, while making a tour of inspection through the West Parish Sunday discovered three young men quite steeped in alcoholic beverage. They got renewed strength at the appearance of the officer and took refuge in a school house where a prayer service was in progress. As they seemed to be moved by the words of the clergyman, no arrests were made.

William Lindsay will leave the employ of Valpey Brothers this week to begin his duties in the office of the master car builder of the Boston and Maine railroad.

50 Years Ago - September, 1926

The J. W. Barnard Estate is preparing plans for a post office building which will be submitted to the post office inspector in competition with other plans for post office quarters already submitted by Samuel Resnik, owner of the Musgrove block; Timothy J. Donovan and Bernard M. McDonald, present owners of the building where the office is located.

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers is strongly endorsed by Andover Republican in the primary. Mrs. Rogers received 621 of the 689 Republican votes cast.

Frederick H. Jones as at the Lake Tarleton Club, Pike, N. H., for the annual meeting of the Grinding Wheel Manufacturers Association of the United States and Canada. This is the 50th consecutive annual session.

A very enjoyable outing was held Saturday by the foremen and office staff of the Tyer Rubber Co., on the grounds of the estate of Myron H. Clark, president of the company.

Everett R. Lawrence of Lewis Street, is at Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Mississippi, where he is teaching science. He is also

Library Opera Club

The Library Opera Club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leith, 18 Lockway Road, Andover on Thursday Sept. 30. The opera is Don Carlos by Verdi.

Children's Room News By Ruth Hooten

Once again we would like to invite anyone with a collection, hobby, or craft that would appeal to children to have an exhibit in the display case in the Children's Room. Our fall schedule is completely open and we would welcome anyone wishing to display. Past displays have ranged from Noah's Ark with 44 pairs of animals to our current display of antique children's books. If you are interested, call Ruth Hooten at 475-0960.

VIBOR (Very Important Board of Review) will be starting once again on Thursday Sept. 30 at 4 p.m. Registration will be on Thursday Sept. 23 at 4 p.m. and boys and girls in the 2 through 6 grades are welcome to join. Last year we began the VIBOR Newsletter, reviewed lots of books, and started some changes in the Club organization. This year it is hoped that we can do even more. So if you like to read and review books, do some writing, and have lots of ideas and energy, come and join VIBOR.

Quick reminder: PJ Party for children ages 3½ to 5 years begins on Thursday Sept. 16 at 7 and will continue at the same time for ten weeks. No registration is required just come when you can. Also we will have booklets available in the Children's Room announcing the dates for the forthcoming fall programs that will include arts and crafts programs, a puppet show, and the movie PIPPI LONGSTOCKING.

Our illustrator on display for September is Paul Galdone. We have a selection of his books out for you to look at as well as a list of books used in the display. We ask you to take the list, but the books, for the moment are for display only.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Kissinger Urges Independence For Southwest Africa

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of State Henry Kissinger recently returned from Zurich where he met with South Africa's Prime Minister John Vorster. The two men negotiated in the strictest secrecy. Not since the Vietnam War has Kissinger been so secretive about his purposes.

However, inside sources told us that Kissinger urged Vorster to make some major concessions to the blacks. Kissinger asked him to grant independence to Southwest Africa. The new nation, of course, would be governed by its black majority. Kissinger also asked Vorster to use his influence with the white rulers of Rhodesia to submit to black majority rule.

But at the same time, Kissinger is under great pressure to help South Africa preserve its own white regime. The pressure comes from some of the nation's most powerful corporations, which have strong ties to the White House.

American industry has a $2 billion stake in South Africa. Over 300 large corporations have offices there. Another six thousand sell their products in South Africa. American banks have loaned hundreds of millions of dollars to South Africa. And trade between the United States and South Africa is steadily increasing.

This troubles Iowa's Senator Dick Clark. He is afraid Kissinger might wind up as the diplomatic champion of South Africa. Therefore, South Africa might become another Vietnam, with the United States supporting the unpopular side against the rest of the world.

So the senator has begun an examination of U.S. policy towards South Africa. He is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Africa, and will hold eight hearings this month.

ROSELLI REPORT : We first broke the story that mobster John Roselli was missing. We reported that the only clue his abductors left was a smudge spot on the window of his car.

Roselli's body was found later stuffed in an oil drum in Florida's Biscayne Bay. The FBI has joined the Miami police in the search for his killers. We can report, however, that the smudge spot is still the only clue. The investigators have been unable to trace the oil drum or the heavy chain that was wrapped around it.

But the signs indicate that Roselli was the victim of a mob execution. The murder of Roselli, a witness before the Senate Intelligence Committee, was likely to bring the federal government into the case. The police believe, therefore, the killing had to have the approval of Florida's Mafia overlord, Santos Trafficante. Both federal and Florida lawmen, therefore, are investigating Trafficante.

The flamboyant Roselli was more than just another hoodlum. He masterminded the attempt to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro for the Central Intelligence Agency. He used elements from the Havana underworld in the plot. They were Cubans who had been left behind after Castro closed down the Mafia's gambling casinos in Havana.

It took a high Mafia leader to make the arrangements with the Havana underworld. Roselli brought in the Chicago Godfather, Sam Giancana, to set up the assassination attempts.

The whole scheme was almost exposed over Giancana's love for a woman. Giancana was in Florida helping to plan the Castro killing when he learned that his girl friend had struck up a romance with a Las Vegas comedian.

The enraged Giancana wanted to fly straight to Las Vegas and take care of the comedian. The CIA talked him out of it by promising to bug the lovers' room and give a full report to Giancana. A private eye was hired to plant the bug. But unhappily, he was caught.

This resulted in an investigation that might have exposed Giancana, Roselli and the Castro assassination scheme. We have learned that the CIA quietly intervened with the Justice Department to block the investigation. The bizarre episode has been hushed up all these years.

SHIP SHORTAGE : During the recent Korean crisis, the Navy moved the aircraft carrier Midway into Korean waters. The move was intended as a warning to the North Koreans not to violate the 23-year armistice.

But classified documents cautioned that the Navy was short of ships in the Far East to back up a military play. Many of the ships are also run down. They are manned, in some cases, by incompetent crews.

With the close of the Vietnam War, the Navy's combat crews have had no one to combat. They are at loose ends, whiling away their time. Living conditions aboard ship have deteriorated. Therefore, morale is low, discipline lax and efficiency poor.

The classified documents show that the fleet has been neglected, with infrequent practice runs and inadequate equipment. Routine refueling operations at sea, for example, have resulted in half-a-dozen collisions since the Vietnam War. At best, the fleet is only in fair fighting condition.

Yet the admirals always manage to squeeze enough money out of the budget for their own comforts. No less than President Ford has complained, according to confidential White House minutes, that the military brass deliberately cuts muscle instead of fat when he orders a budget reduction.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

It is back to school time again for Andover's senior citizens as well as the children. Among the courses starting up this month at The Haven are: Bridge, French, German, Painting, Plant cultivation, Crewel, Knitting, Cloth Painting, and the choral Singing for Joy group. Surely there is something in that list that will wet the appetite to learn something new. All the groups are open to everyone with no experience or prior information needed. Most of the courses are free or with minimal charges. Why not stop by The Haven today and let them know you would like to be in one or more classes. There will even be a special class in spinning with a drop spindle - taught by a local resident expert:

Barbara Bro.

On October 1 there will be a meeting of the Mass. Association for Older Americans to be held in the Lowell Memorial Auditorium in Lowell. You are invited to attend this meeting and transportation is being arranged from The Haven. For one dollar you will travel to the meeting and will also enjoy a special box luncheon. Reserve your place at The Haven right away. Mr.

Harvest Your Own Apples

Bright red juicy apples are ripe for the picking in "McIntosh Country", and you can do the harvesting yourself at many of the bountiful orchards in Massachusetts through mid October.

Sweet cider is also made by many local apple growers and some offer other fresh fruit and vegetables, gift items and specialty foods for sale, according to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

For a list, map and details concerning all the orchards in New England and New York, write "Pick Your Own Apples", P. O. Box 1775, Boston, MA 02105. The brochure is also available at some of the turnpike information centers in Massachusetts. While McIntosh is far and away the leading apple variety in New England, there's also a sizeable local crop of Cortland, Red Delicious and Macoun. Varieties in limited production that show promise for the future are Spencer, Spartan, Empire, Melrose and Ida Red.

A trip to apple country is an ideal day's outing. There are many historical sites to visit enroute, and antique buffs will want to browse at country shops on the scenic back roads in Massachusetts.

Fresh native apples and sweet cider are available, too, at retail food stores. The quality of this year's apple crop is looking good and now is the time to begin enjoying it!

Copper, mercury and petroleum in concentrations of a few parts per billion in water have serious effects on the microscopic ocean community. These pollutants change the population balance from large diatoms to smaller-sized phytoplankton, according to Massachusetts Audubon. Copepods, the primary food for many commercial fish, eat diatoms but are not equipped to eat the smaller phytoplankton.

School Of Montessori Begins Second Year

The Andover School of Montessori, Inc., a non-profit organization incorporated in the Commonwealth of Mass., began its second year Monday, Sept. 13. The school located in St. Augustine's on Central St. provides a five day a week Montessori program for 2½ to 6 year olds in a morning or an afternoon session.

The Montessori environment provides the means for the realization of the primary task of the young child: the construction of his personality. As the child becomes oriented to the carefully prepared environment and involved in constructive work, his self discipline grows. He feels satisfied, serene, and is respectful of himself and others. He develops profound spontaneous concentration, joy of learning, a love of work, a sense of order and an attachment to reality. In this environment the child has freedom within limits and the materials necessary for his growth.

There is a full range of sequentially structured developmental materials scientifically designed by Dr. Montessori through her profound understanding of, and respect for, the child. Each material has a special purpose and many variations. A careful sequence is involved in the curriculum covering the areas of: practical life, sensorial, language, math, social sciences, art and music. There is also a large outside area with several pieces of equipment designed for the physical development of the pre-school and kindergarten age child. In this environment the child's chance for success is high because he has been indirectly prepared for each new material. He learns from the materials themselves, the teacher merely demonstrates their use.

The two teachers who staff A.S. of M. are certified, experienced, Montessori educators. Through their knowledge of the sensitive periods of learning and careful observation, each child's needs are provided for. Teacher conferences with parents are held in December and early May and a written report is issued in June. There are monthly meetings, a parent study group, and several committees for parents who wish to actively participate. For further information or application for enrollment of children between 2½ and 3½ years of age call Mrs. Kenneth Pedini or Mrs. Robert Brammer of Andover.

Hay Scales To Offer Classes

The Hay Scales Exchange of North Andover will offer classes in country painting, decoupage, crewel, lamp shade making, macrame, and patchwork quilting, beginning in September and October.

Country painting and decoupage will be taught by Mrs. Freida Bjornson of North Andover.

Mrs. Mary Benford will teach both pressed flower and cut lamp shade making.

Mrs. Muriel Rizzo of Andover, who has attended several of Erica Wilson's Needlework Seminars, will teach crewel.

Macrame will be offered for the first time and will be taught by Mrs. Eva Westphalen.

Patchwork quilting will again be taught by Mrs. Sally Field of Chelmsford, a director of the Chelmsford 1690 Garrison House Association. Mrs. Field is an experienced lecturer as well as teacher.

These popular courses have limited enrollment. Persons interested in further information should call the Hay Scales Exchange.

Open House For Weight Watchers

Weight Watchers will hold open house in all local classes during the entire week of September 20th. The public is welcome to attend at no obligation.

In Andover, open house will be held on Tuesday, September 21, at 7:30 p.m., at the Elks Club, 400 South Main Street.

Lecturer Harriett Davis, a 40-pound "loser," will describe Weight Watchers' three-part reducing, leveling, and maintenance program. She will also explain the "Personal Action Plan," a behavior modification program designed to help the overweight overcome obstacles to weight reduction and develop new eating habits to ensure maintenance of weight loss.

Men, women, and teenagers are welcome, and those attending will receive free recipes.

The purpose of this organization is to promote better understanding of our fellow beings; to stimulate a deeper appreciation of the cultural things in life; and to be of service to the community.

Workers Praised

Marilyn Ahern, Andover Chairman for the 1976 Kidney Foundation Campaign, today warmly praised the Andover Volunteers who carried the community-wide 1976 appeal to success. "Without them," she said, "there would have been no way to come close to our goal."

Andover citizens also received lavish praise for their generous response. "Their contributions, to the Kidney Foundation are used for patient services, community service, public and professional education, and research."

Blizzards in the Antarctic are surface snow driven by gale and hurricane winds. The snow is dry and granular; it forms into six-foot frozen snow dunes with wave-like shapes running the direction of prevailing winds, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Tsongas Group Plans Drive

The Andover Tsongas for Congress Committee is continuing a bumper sticker drive initiated earlier in the campaign. A prize has been offered to the volunteer distributing the most bumper stickers. The winner will be a guest at a dinner on Oct. 16 featuring Congressman Peter Rodino (Dem., N.J.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, at the home of Fifth District Representative Paul E. Tsongas.

All Andover volunteers are invited to a campaign party to be held at the Lawrence headquarters on Friday night at 8 p.m. Congressman Tsongas will join the workers over cider and donuts.

Recent additions to the campaign as precinct captains are Phil Dargie, 5 Patricia Circle, and Joe Ross, 14 Corbett St. Tickets have been distributed for the Oct. 1 "Gay Nineties Night" to be held at the Elks Hall.

Information concerning volunteers, the "Gay Nineties Night" tickets or the volunteer party is available from Tsongas headquarters, 479 Essex St., Lawrence.

INTERIOR DESIGN COURSE OFFERED

A SIX WEEK INTENSIVE COURSE in interior decorating is offered by two of Andover's leading professional designers.

Included will be detailed instruction in such areas as: ROOM LAYOUT, COLOR and FABRIC SELECTION, WINDOW TREATMENTS and much more, including homework Projects.

Mrs. David A. Hale

Hale-Royce

Amanda Dashiell Royce was married to David Arnold Hale at 4 o'clock Saturday, in the garden of home on Old Campus Road, Andover.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Schuyler Royce, Jr., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Hale of Des Moines, Iowa.

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Hale wore a gown of ivory voile trimmed with matching lace, and her great-grandmother's lace veil.

She was attended by her sister, Catherine P. Royce of Cambridge, as matron of honor, and her sister Rebecca Royce of Andover, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Hollis F. Cleveland of Wellesley and Gloria Gonzalas of Riverside, Ill.

James H. Wilson of University City, Mo., served as the groom's best man and ushers included Peter Peto of Olmsted Falls, Ohio; the bride's brother, H. Schuyler Royce, III, of Bar Harbor, Me., and A. Scott Nagel of Cambridge.

The new Mrs. Hale attended the Pingree School, South Hamilton, Mass., and Northwestern University, while her husband attended Des Moines schools and Northwestern University.

Following a wedding trip to Maine, they will be making their home in Des Moines.

Visiting The Wagner Festivals

By Lotte Bertheim

A trip to Europe of course means different plans, aspects and experiences to different people. To us this year it meant a reunion with dear friends, the visit to the Opera Festivals of Muenchen and Bayreuth and a two weeks rest period in the Austrian Alps.

Our trip started in the Rhineland visiting with friends on their huge farm: 12,000 apple trees, vineyards, raspberry plantation, and as a special attraction, the ruins of a monastery dating back to the eighth century. There we were painfully aware of the catastrophic drought, which scoured most of western Europe; and while we later on experienced a lot of rain in Bavaria and especially in the Alps, there was hardly a sprinkle in the area of Frankfurt and the Rhineland.

A prolonged heatwave, a rarity for Western Europe, of course overshadowed our days, even during the first days in Muenchen, where it finally broke with a violent thunderstorm. This occurred during the performance of Electra (by Richard Strauss), very appropriately during this drama of gripping intensity. It was a memorable evening, foremost because of the guidance of the youthful 81-year-old conductor Karl Boehm - probably the last keeper of a tradition and also because the glory of Birgit Nilsson's voice filled the opera house with undiminished splendor and intensity.

To Boehm's artistry (plus the assembly of a stellar cast) we owed an unforgettable performance of a completely different style and period: Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro". Here a drama became blessed reality; the dream how Mozart should be sung, how the orchestra should sound, how the acting, the scenery should blend and together pay homage to the spirit of Mozart. Another Mozart opera, one which we never had heard and which this year was "rediscovered" at the Muenchen, Salzburg and Vienna Festivals: "La clemenza di Tito" we saw in the tiny, private Rococo theatre of the Bavarian kings. The performance with fresh, youthful voices, settings in pastel colours fitted perfectly in this exquisite little gem of an opera house. Arnold Schoenberg of the New York Times said: "Munich is an opera Festival" this we experienced happily and gratefully with two more Strauss operas: Rosenkavalier, his most beloved and popular one, and Salome, which has not lost any of its intensity since first performed in 1905. To round out this festive week, we heard the Barber of Seville and a recital by the internationally famous baritone: Dietrich Fischer-Diskau, who was accompanied at the piano by the general music director of the Bavarian State Opera.

These musical experiences and the visit with dear friends, one of them a former opera singer of great renown, had a chance of settling in our minds during the time we spent in a remote austrian alpine valley.

And then it was time to drive back north again, circling Munich, to Bayreuth, where this summer the 100th anniversary of the Wagner Festivals was celebrated. We realized and truly appreciated our good fortune, first of all to be privileged just to be there, and secondly to be received by the administration (like in Munich) with informality and open friendliness. We were presented with gifts of records, with books, pamphlets and beautifully illustrated almanacs. We even had a pleasant, private chat with Wolfgang Wagner - the only living grandson of the composer and the guiding spirit of the Festivals.

mostphere. One has to marvel at the whole conception: from the amphitheatre-like auditorium (with the hard uncomfortable seats) with the phantastic

Wagner Festival

acoustics, the covered orchestra pit, to the large terrace platform, where the audience during hourlong intermissions can walk, eat and drink.

This way the long operas are not tiring and one does not mind to spend afternoon and evening on the "green hill".

The last 100 years have proven the vitality and justification to this first conception of musical festivals in modern times. Let me now report very briefly on the six works of this year's festival. The six works are performed four times, ours was the third series. We witnessed a beautifully performed Parsifal, staged last year by Wolfgang Wagner, who presented the opera in dignified style, enhancing its own musical language. Then we heard Tristan And Isolde; This was the highpoint, because a conductor of genius, Carlos Kleiber, interpreted this miraculous, most difficult score with absolute mastery and passion. These works were followed by the Ring Of The Nibelung, this giant work comprising four operas; we were forewarned by many reports, write-ups and tales of the new, impossible production by a young frenchman. The most regrettable aspect seems to me that a stage director should be the ruler over singers, conductor, orchestra and (as in this case) of the work of art as a whole. The instances of distortion, mockery of the work, insults to artists as well as audience and degradation were enough to fill a book. It did an absolute disservice to this work, which is one of the giant conceptions of music, truly a "world within a world".

Now I am looking forward to be able to listen to our complete recording of the Ring from a live presentation of a few years back - again, under the baton of Karl Boehm - in order to regain the right perspective of the music and the philosophy of this work.

Of course we like to return to the Munich and Bayreuth festivals, as we were asked to; to the latter only if there will be a better presentation of the Ring cycle.

New Law On Buses

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Robert A. Panora today explained the school bus law which became effective September 1 relative to stopping for a school bus.

The law says, "When approaching a vehicle which displays a sign bearing the words 'SCHOOL BUS' and is equipped with front and rear alternating flashing red signal lamps which are flashing, as provided in section 7B, and which has been stopped to allow passengers to alight from or board the same, a person operating a motor vehicle shall, except when approaching from the opposite direction on a divided highway, bring his vehicle to a full stop before reaching said school bus and shall not thereafter proceed until the warning signals are deactivated."

Panora explained further that the definition of a divided highway is: A highway with separated roadways for traffic in opposite directions.

He also said that the law change means that no one has the authority -- including the school bus operator -- to wave anybody to pass the bus while the school bus lights are flashing!

But don't take our word for it.

Road & Track "This car does it all; it's small, light, roomy and fast, with nimble and responsive steering, ride and handling. Best sedan under $3,500."

Road Test Magazine "It is the finest example to date of a totally integrated passenger car, useful anywhere in the world, and is qualified as no other imported car is for 1975 for the Road Test Engineering Award."

Popular Mechanics "Volkswagen's Rabbit is the best value for 1975."

Car & Driver "Whole populations of drivers will live for years with this car, strongly impressed by its generally nimble disposition and its sensitive feel of the road through the steering wheel and brake pedal."

Esquire "It is the specific type of car that Detroit will be building in the 1980's."

The standard transmission Rabbit got an EPA estimated 39 miles per gallon on the highway -- and 25 in the city. (Actual mileage may vary depending on type of driving, driving habits, car's condition and optional equipment.)

Porsche 924 - Now at Park-Hegarty Porsche-Audi

Porsche has created a new Porsche - a front-engined Porsche with a rear transaxle - the 924! And you can see it and drive it NOW at Park-Hegarty Porsche Audi, 222 Lowell Street in Lawrence.

The Porsche 924 is beautiful to look at and designed to handle beautifully, too. Its aerodynamic design and rear transaxle not only give it those sleek lines, but a low drag factor for greater efficiency and handling stability. Rack and pinion steering helps it take the curves with minimum effort and combined with the transaxle system and rear wheel drive, it lets you hold the road with uncanny control.

For even more control, this sporty Porsche 924 is equipped with radial tires and dual diagonal brake circuits combined with negative roll radius. For riding comfort, there's an independently sprung suspension system with MacPherson struts in the front and torsion bars in the rear. The comfortable seats were designed to give your body the proper support and adjust not only from front to back, but from straight up to full reclining. And best of all is 924's economy - an EPA estimated 31 mpg. highway, 17 city.

The Porsche 924 has everything you want a sports car to have, located exactly where you want it to be. All of the typical sports car instruments, including speedometer and tachometer, are right on the dashboard and console, where they're easy to read. There are turn signals, a headlight dimmer switch, horn and an automatic windshield washer/wiper control on the steering wheel where they're easy to reach.

See it, sit in it, try it on winding roads, open highways - the exciting new Porsche 924 - at Park-Hegarty Porsche-Audi, 222 Lowell Street, Lawrence, where there's always a full line of the newest Porsches and Audis in stock. Tel. 686-9743.

SECTION VII. POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE DISTRICT COMMISSION

A. The District Commission shall have all the powers and duties conferred and imposed on Historic District Commissions by the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

B. In passing upon matters before it, the Commission shall consider, among other things, the historic and architectural value and significance of the site, building or structure, the general design, and arrangement of the features involved, and the relation of such features to similar features of buildings and structures in the surrounding area. In the case of new construction or additions to existing buildings or structures, the Commission shall consider the appropriateness of the size and shape of the building or structure both in relation to the land area upon which the building or structure is situated and to buildings and structures in the vicinity.

C. In the case of a disapproval of an application for a certificate of appropriateness, or a certificate of non-applicability, or a certificate of hardship, the District Commission shall place upon its records the reasons for such determination and shall forthwith cause a notice of its determination, accompanied by a copy of the reasons therefor as set forth in the records of the District Commission, to be issued to the applicant, and the District Commission may make recommendations to the applicant with respect to appropriateness of the general design and arrangement of the features involved. Prior to the issuance of any disapproval, the District Commission may notify the applicant of its proposed action accompanied by recommendations of change in the applicant's proposal which, if made, would make the application acceptable to the District Commission. If within fourteen (14) days of the receipt of such a notice, the applicant files a written modification of his application in conformity with the recommended changes of the District Commission, said Commission shall cause a certificate of appropriateness to be issued to the applicant.

D. It is the intent of this By-Law that the District Commission, when acting on a case of alleged financial hardship, shall thoroughly consider the evidence of financial hardship; and, if convinced of the existence of such a financial hardship, the District Commission shall make every reasonable effort to alleviate serious financial hardship.

E. The District Commission shall serve in an advisory capacity to the Board of Selectmen, the Planning Board, the Zoning Board of Appeals, the Massachusetts Historical Commission and any other public agency, in matters pertaining to, or affecting any historic structures or sites in any of the aforesaid historic districts.

F. The District Commission, at all times, shall act with a clear understanding of the needs of the property owners, businesses and residents of the aforesaid Historic Districts to enjoy the amenities of modern life in the use of their homes and properties.

SECTION VIII. PENALTY

Any violation of any provision of this By-Law, or any decision rendered by the District Commission, when acting under authority of this By-Law, may be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred (200.00) dollars for each offense.

Each day such violation continues, shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION IX. SEVERABILITY

If any section, paragraph or part of this By-Law is, for any reason, declared to be invalid, unconstitutional or otherwise improper or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, every other section, paragraph and part of this By-Law shall continue in full force and effect.

ARTICLE 9. To see if the Town will vote to accept and endorse resolutions in recognition of services rendered by citizens in serving the Town of Andover.

And you are directed to serve this warrant by posting attested copies and publication thereof, seven days at least before the time and place of said meeting as directed by the By-Laws of the Town.

Assigned To Schools

School Chairman George Olesen Tuesday night continued the practice of assigning one member to act as a liaison with the parent-teacher group at each of the schools. David Ahouse will be working with Bancroft and Sanborn; Joseph Finn with Doherty and Shawshen; Frank Griggs with South and East Junior High; and Elaine Viehmann with West Junior High and the High School. Olesen himself will work with West Elementary and the PTO Advisory Committee.

He also named Griggs and Ahouse to a standing Buildings and Grounds subcommittee; and Finn and Viehmann to Curriculum and Personnel.

Teacher Negotiator

Mrs. Viehmann will continue negotiating with the teacher aides, while chairman George Olesen will negotiate with the teachers.

David Ahouse suggested that since Olesen's "tenure on the committee" may be in doubt when he comes up for re-election next spring, it might be in the interest of continuity to assign another committeeman to the negotiations as well. Olesen said it was difficult to have two negotiators and said that if someone from the committee wanted to tag along with him, it was all right.

Intramural Program Could Provide Mass Participation

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 16, 1976

A play for a beefed up intramural sports program that will serve many more youngsters in the junior high schools was adopted by the School Committee Tuesday night.

The plan may also put an end to interscholastic sports in the seventh and eighth grades.

The action followed a report by Athletic Program Director Richard Swift on both intramural and interscholastic activities.

He recommended that coordinator be hired in each junior high beginning in February of the current school year, to evaluate the need and potential for intramural activities. Swift said he would come back to the school committee in June with the results of the coordinators' efforts, and if favorable, he would institute the expanded intramural program next fall.

He said the seventh and eighth grades would have no formal interscholastic competition — contests with other schools or towns — but that highly skilled eighth graders could be added to ninth grade interscholastic teams.

He said the emphasis would be on mass participation, at a cost not to exceed the $11,000 allotted in the present budget for interscholastic activities in football, basketball and baseball. The present intramural budget is $5,800. Most of that is for salaries.

The change would make some of the present interscholastic coaches available to lead intramurals, with increased instruction for youngsters who hadn't participated before.

Swift said instruction would be particularly necessary in sports such as soccer, gymnastics and track, where outside community efforts don't exist. Many youngsters arrive in junior high with skills in football, basketball, baseball and hockey.

Twenty years ago, Swift said, someone would say there would be a pick-up game in the gym after school and everyone would turn out. Kids today, he went on, ask for a clock, a new ball and maybe some kind of jerseys.

He said the "push" of a coordinator is needed to help challenge the youngsters and drum up interest.

One possible disadvantage of an emphasized intramural program, he said, is that highly skilled athletes tend to monopolize the game. Special efforts will have to be made to insure that all youngsters have equal opportunities to play.

Swift also recommended an intramural council with a representative from each homeroom to help with publicizing activities and offer suggestions. There would be four intramural seasons, he added.

LEGAL NOTICES

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
LAND COURT

Case No. 81736

(Seal)

To FRANK E. MORRISSE and MARLENE S. MORRISSE both of Andover, County of Essex; Commonwealth of Massachusetts (Department of Corporations and Taxation); Town of Andover, a municipal corporation, located in Andover, County of Essex, and all of said Commonwealth; and to all persons entitled to the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended: Arlington Trust Company, a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in Lawrence, in the County of Essex; and of said Commonwealth; claiming to be the holder of a mortgage covering real property in said Andover Numbered 5 Oriole
Drive given by FRANK E.
MORRISSE and MARLENE S.
MORRISSE, to the plaintiff, dated
March 15, 1974, recorded with North
Essex District Deeds, Book 1237,
Page 210; has filed with said court a complaint for authority to foreclose said mortgage in the manner following: by entry and possession and exercise of power of sale.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended and you object to such foreclosure you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said court at Boston on or before the twenty-fifth day of October 1976, or you may be forever barred from claiming that such foreclosure is invalid under said act.

Flu Clinics Planned

The Andover Board of Health met with Bruce Walton, area coordinator for the Swine Flu Immunization Program, to finalize plans for the Influenza Clinics to be held this fall.

The first clinic to be conducted in October will be confined to people over 65 and high risk patients from ages 18 to 65. People of high risk are considered to be those with chronic lung disease, chronic kidney disease, heart disease, diabetes, etc. People over 65 and high risk patients will receive the bivalent vaccine to immunize them against Swine plus A-Victoria strains of influenza. Later clinics will be announced to immunize other age groups and people desiring to be immunized.

Specific dates, along with time-of-day and locations will be announced by the Andover Board of Health after Oct. 1.

10 Years Ago - September, 1966

Elm Farm Foods Co., announces that it will close its Shawshen Plaza store at the end of next week due to declining revenues there.

Philip L. Clinton of 50 Elm St., is among the 39 boys who sailed this week for Barcelona, Spain to attend the Schoolboys Abroad program.

The heavy, steady weekend downpour, resulted in a substantial rise in the level of Haggetts pond. While bothersome, the thorough dousing should aid the water supply, not only by the increase at the pond, but eliminating lawn sprinkling the like.

Peter Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Goodman, 4 Joyce Terrace, has returned to Brandeis after a summer of study at the Illinois Arts Council in Chicago.

Andover has received top prize in the annual town report contest conducted by the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association.

but was concerned about the possible setting of precedent should requests be made from similar schools.

French and Chairman Milton Greenberg asked if it were proper to use the public purse for such an activity.

The particular nursery school is housed at Christ church only because the facility is available and utilizes state funds in its operation. The program is devoted to special needs and handicapped youngsters.

It was generally agreed that the plowing operations could be carried out.

Awarded Bond Issue

Selectmen approved the awarding of bond anticipation notes in the amount of $255,000 to the Arlington Trust Co. on its proposal of 2.49 per cent.

The bonds are to be issued on Sept. 17 and due on Dec. 15.

Test Results

"Judging by achievement test results, math in the elementary grades of the Andover Schools is functioning very well."

It noted two recent additions to the program: a Post IMS enrichment program for the 20 percent or so of youngsters who complete all nine IMS levels before they've finished sixth grade, and IMS II, a logical extension of IMS in the junior highs.

In the language arts area, the report said that the "Andover Individualized Reading System is a source of great pride for those of us who move in professional education circles." It added that AIRS is widely known throughout the U.S. and that in addition to higher achievement test scores, it also promotes interest in reading among Andover pupils, as endorsed by library circulation figures.

A two-year writing and revision of an English grammar series will be continued during the current school year.

In the area of science, the report called the present elementary program "fragmented at best, and uneven at worst." It was the subject of a summer in-service project and of a major stress this year.

The "absence of a basic philosophy of what social studies is to be," was one of the problems noted in that subject area, with "a lack of consistency at the elementary level."

The report also credited staff members "by and large" with "continuing to go the second and third mile to provide a school program second to none."

Griggs also expressed interest in a Westcott suggestion that the testing program be reversed — with a random sampling of the students given achievement tests to monitor Andover's achievement on national norms, and internal tests administered to all pupils to assess specific progress in each subject area taught.

"I think we have enough confidence about where we are to go with that idea," Griggs said.

While noting that he was "very pleased with where we are at the 60th percentile," Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert Tuesday night also warned of the danger of setting too many standards.

"It's a very positive thing to have standards," he said, "but if we continue to push in that direction, humanness will be fading."

We're getting very diagnostic in our approach to subject matter," he went on. "The subject matter is becoming almost more important than the students themselves."

Parents have received reports of their youngsters' test scores, and meetings will be called this fall to discuss test results in each of the schools.

Fair Season

September is the busiest fair season of the year in Massachusetts. The largest in the East is the Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield, Sept. 15 to 26. Other upcoming major fairs are in Great Barrington, Sept. 11 to 21, and in Foxboro at the Bay State Raceway, Sept. 14 to 25.

A Rabbit Show will be held at the Topsfield Fairgrounds on Sept. 18, and Grange fairs are scheduled on Sept. 18 in Bradford, Easton, Rutland and Westford, and on Sept. 20 in Leicester.

Rubbish heaps and garbage have provided a niche for a "new" species of wasp over the past 20 years in the Mid-Atlantic states, Massachusetts Audubon reports. Vespula germanica feeds on bits of discarded food, prefers densely populated areas and may build a nest in a house. Most other wasp species live in the country and build nests below the ground.

A request to move two houses up River Road — action would require trimming, perhaps even felling a tree or two along the way — was rejected by the Selectmen Monday night.

However, John Warlick, Salem, N. H., is expected to refile for a permit to move houses which he is purchasing from Arkwright-Boston, soon as he has complied with nearly a dozen provisions.

The most difficult to meet may be his getting together with private abutters who trees overhang the right of way.

More than 70 River Road residents, mostly hostile to the permit, turned out for the second week in a row, and he James Murphy of No. 288 in that he would not allow the maples in front of his house be touched. In fact, he said, would put every obstruction could in Warlick's path "have to go to court to do it."

The Selectmen were forced to defend Warlick's right to appeal for the moving permit, and their own right by law to order trees trimmed as far back as the road's edge to make way for moving house, even if the tree trunks are on private property.

Once Postponed

They had postponed a decision on the permit from last week so they could take a look at the two-and-a-half mile route in question, and virtually agreed Monday night that town-owned trees that help create the "tunnel effect"
